JOHNNY WINTER FIREBIRD

There have been few guitarists able to interpret classic blues and blues rock with the mastery and expressiveness of legend Johnny Winter. Since the late 1960s, Winter has been cranking out some of the meanest and most spellbinding slide guitar ever recorded, and performing live, he can still blast searing, gut-wrenching blues without even breaking a sweat.

For decades, Winter has relied on one guitar—a 1963 Gibson Firebird V. The Gibson Custom Shop Johnny Winter Signature Firebird V is a painstaking recreation of this iconic instrument down to every last detail and feature. Nothing has been overlooked.

The new Gibson Custom Shop Johnny Winter Signature Firebird V is Gibson's heartfelt tribute to a true blues master, and his most beloved instrument.

THE CUSTOM SHOP DIFFERENCE

Passion.

It burns in the heart of every player who purchases a Gibson Custom Shop guitar... and it burns in the heart of every employee who helps build our world-class instruments.

We vow to continue infusing every instrument that passes through our doors with that same passion. It's what makes our guitars the best.

From initial wood selection to final assembly, we sweat the details so that when you pick up your guitar, your dream, it exceeds every expectation you could possibly have.

For 2008, we will continue to strive for excellence, remain faithful to our history, and never lose sight of our goal to build the finest guitars in the world.

Pick one up for yourself. Feel the passion that we put into our guitars and release yours.
